This Privacy Statement provides information on how we (the Developer and the Owner), manage personal information that we collect throughout the course of our business, and via this website.

We, the Developer and the Owner, are committed to ensuring that personal information is collected, disclosed, used and stored in accordance with the National Privacy Principles under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

Personal Information Collected

The Developer only collects personal information to carry on its business as a property developer. The Owner only collects personal information in connection with its ownership of, and proposed sale of the land on which The Discovery is located.

The personal data which we may collect via this website or otherwise in the course of our business includes:

- the content of electronic forms you submit via this website, providing information to us, requesting us to provide services or information, or to take actions;
- any messages or comments you submit to us via this website, which may include personal data such as your name, email address and telephone number;
- information relating to the date, time and duration of your visit to the website, and also the web pages visited by you during your visit. This information will not relate to your identity in any way, but will be used to help administer and improve our website;
- information in any Registration of Interest or Expression of Interest submitted to us by you; and
- details in any contract of sale you may enter with us in The Discovery or any other project in the course of our business.

Cookies

When you visit our website, our server may attach a small data file called a "cookie" to your computer's memory. A cookie may notify our server of your details of your visit including when and how you have viewed our website. This information is collected anonymously.

Use and Disclosure of Personal Information

We may use personal information collected via this website and other means for the following purposes:

- for research purposes including market research, product and service development, security and testing;
- to assess the best way in which to develop and structure our projects;
- to assist us in providing the properties, products and services you may request from us; and
- to provide you with information or promotional details about properties, products and services that may be of interest to you.

We may disclose personal information to third party consultants, agents or contractors (including real estate agents, marketing and advertising consultants, professional advisors and e-security contractors).

Security

We are committed to keeping your personal data and information secure. We will take reasonable steps to ensure the information we collect from you is protected from misuse (by us or someone else), loss and unauthorized access or disclosure.

Access to and Correction of Personal Information

You may request access to your personal information that we hold, and you may request that the personal information be corrected or updated. All requests will be processed in accordance with the National Privacy Principles.
